

Restaurants are service-oriented businesses that have their own unique set of processes that are needed for managing the HR and payroll of their workforce.

Examples of these processes include having multiple employee work shifts to handle differing restaurant hours, having to manage employees from multiple branches and establishments, having an allowance provided to employees for remaining in the premises during long break time, having a process to properly accumulate customer tips that distributed together with the payroll, etc.

iProcess Service

With iProcess, you have a complete turn-key solution that fully caters to the restaurant industry, handling all of your HR and payroll needs, from capturing your employees' attendance information all the way to leave management, loans, and payroll processing.

With our iProcess service, simply send your employee's raw time-in and time-out information, and we will do all the attendance and payroll processing for you.

Biometrics

For restaurants, employee attendance is critical to properly serve customers. As such, biometrics has become a necessary tool to prevent fraud in capturing the raw time-in and time-out information of employees.

Biometrics

If you don't have any biometrics, we can provide you with our iSuweldo certified biometric devices, whose output file is already compatible with iSuweldo.

If you have existing biometric devices, you can continue to use them, where we will add the output format of your device for use with iSuweldo.

iSuweldo

In addition to the iProcess service, the iProcess team uses iSuweldo, the Philippines' complete payroll system, that fully adheres to all the Philippine government rules and regulations.

iSuweldo fully caters to the Restaurant industry with key restaurant-specific features :

- Shift Break Allowance
You can specify and allow employees to earn a certain percentage of their hourly rate during their scheduled their break time.

- Service Charge
You can specify and allocate service charge amounts (such as from tips) and distribute them to specified employees. You can also prorate the service charge allocation your employees will get to consider your employee's attendance.
- Multiple Shifts
